Authentic essential oils. Now they do exist. NSP has blown the lid off aromatherapy with the help of master aroma therapists like Lorrie Hargis from France. Also see this article below: www.utahstories.com/2014/08/damning-evidence-that-young-living-and-doterras-essential-oils-are-adulterated/

The truth about oils is emerging. What companies say and prove are two very different things. If anyone approaches you on “another” oil company, just refer them to that article. If they argue say: “prove it”. Words like “therapeutic”, “food grade”, “clinical”, mean nothing. Ask Lorrie. It’s just a gimmick to get you buy them. Authentic means you can trace the source.

NSP is on fire! I want to make sure everyone knows that NSP is the leading Botanical company in the world. They are the only one with a medically staffed research facility that is documenting the efficacy of herbal/oil remedies. Yes, the only.

They have been in business for 43 years proving Integrity and Quality, and can prove it. Many companies say they can, can they? Ask! It is what people are looking for in their supplements. I hope you realize how rare this is in today’s market.

Only 20% of all companies even make their own products. None of these companies have invested in Quality like NSP has. Here is an invitation to see the investment in quality control NSP has made: <http://www.naturessunshine.com/us/company/c1/product-quality/>

Most companies do not have near the equipment or personnel that NSP has to make sure you get not only what is on the label in every batch, but that the testing has been done to make sure the product is pure and deliver the constituents known to support health. Health is a serious business. You deserve the best.

While you are at the internet, read up on the new products from NSP called Berberine IR #1398-6. It is clinically proven. Shown to be as effective as drugs like Metformin for blood sugar control minus side effects. Plus the added benefit of helping control bad bacteria endotoxins that may contribute to weight gain.

Did you see the new CardioxLDL #1195-0? The cholesterol myth has been busted!

Also, a new, more potent, CoQ10 100mg #4135-9. Actually cheaper in long run!

The new oil blends like Recover #3856-2 has no equal in the industry. I have seven testimonials for muscle aches and pains in one day. All, within a half hour noticed relief. One manager had a headache for three days and tried everything, used recover, poof gone in 30 minutes. Obviously a muscle issue and that is only one of the blends (of eight) that have come out. Told you they are on fire! Come on get warm!

Many companies put their name on a product label and do not manufacture it themselves.
